

News Literacy Now: How to “Read” the News

Contents

Dear Reader	1
How to Read This Book	5
1 You and News	9	5 What Makes This Story Newsworthy?	73
How Do We Get News Literate?	10	Who Decides What Is News?	73
Five Questions to Ask Ourselves About News	10	What Determines the Newsworthiness of a Story?	74
Read the Research	17	How Is a News Story Constructed?	77
2 Why News Literacy Matters	19	What Are Journalism Story Techniques?	81
Why Do We Need News Literacy Now?	20	Ask the Right Questions: Format	84
How News Literate Are We? What the Research Says	21	6 Do News Media Take Sides?	87
Who Is a News Literate Person?	27	Is News Objective?	87
Where Do We Go From Here?	29	How Is the Story Framed?	90
An Integrative News Media Literacy Framework	30	Is the Story Fair, Balanced or Biased?	92
What’s Next?	33	Where’s the Evidence?	95
3 What Is News?	37	Whose “Fault” Is It?	96
What Is the Purpose of News?	38	Do News Media Take Sides or Not?	98
What Makes News Reliable?	40	Ask the Right Questions: Content	99
What Is the Fourth Estate?	43	7 Who Is Your Gatekeeper?	103
What Is the Fifth Estate?	45	Who Sets the News Agenda?	104
What Is “Fake News”?	46	How Might Different People Understand the Same News Story?	109
Ask the Right Questions: Purpose	54	Who’s Caught in the “Spiral of Silence”?	113
4 Who Writes the News?	59	Who Is the “Third Person”?	118
Who Is a Journalist?	59	Who Believes “Fake News” — Me, You or Them?	119
What Are the Different Types of Journalism?	60	Ask the Right Questions: Audience	121
If a Journalist Didn’t Write This, Then Who Did?	63	8 Digging Deeper	127
Ask the Right Questions: Authorship	68	No More CRAAP!	128
		How to Search Like a Fact-Checker	130
		How to Disrupt Disinformation	132
		Now What?	136
		A Final Word	139
		A Few Resources	143
		Types of Misinformation and Disinformation	143
		Selected News and Media Literacy Resources	146